ADMINISTRATION

Top: Mr. Hammel is always ready to help solve students' problems. Below: The job of assistant principal is not an easy one, but Mr. Kelley's efficiency helps to lessen the difficulty.

Administrative offices strive for betterment of students

Under the guidance and leadership of Floyd K. McCutchan, now in his sixth year as Superintendent of the Metropolitan School District of Steuben County, the administration has continued to provide new and better facilities for the students at A.H.S. The School Board works with and assists Mr. McCutchan in his strive to create the best conditions possible for Junior High and High School education.

Closer to the students are Mr. John Hammel and his assistant, Mr. Harry Kelley. Both of these men devote much of their time to discussing problems with students and try to guide them in the right direction.

All of these men are a vital part of our educational process and deserve commendation for their consideration of the students at Angola High School.

Guidance counselors

Mrs. Eileen Fulton took over the job of school nurse this year, and serves students in all four buildings, testing sight and hearing and performing many other duties.

Right and Below: Besides counseling students, Mr. Fleming spends countless hours in doing paperwork, meeting with college representatives, and administering tests.

assist students in planning for the future

Guidance services are designed to deal with the entire personality—various moods, fears, purposes, and abilities of individuals. Mr. Jim Fleming and Mr. Paul Schock have the job of testing the achievements and mental maturity of the high school students while Mr. Dan Warmbier assists the junior high in planning their high school years. Other aims of the department are to help when problems arise and to design the patterns of character, scholarship, and ambitions of the A.H.S. students of today.

Planning ahead mentally is just as important as keeping physically able. Mrs. Eileen Fulton, the school nurse, and Dr. June Horrall, school psychologist, are always prepared to offer their services when needed by the students.

Behind the scenes services are vital to smooth school operation

Behind the scenes at A.H.S. are many people responsible for keeping the school running smoothly. Without them the jobs they perform would be left undone. The custodians are the fix-it men who keep the damaged equipment in working order as well as keeping the school clean and presentable for the students. Providing the hot lunches enjoyed by students and faculty, the cafeteria workers are also responsible for the early morning breakfasts initiated this year. Transportation is important, especially for the students living outside the city limits. The capable bus drivers use skill and responsible attitudes in transporting the students safely back and forth in all types of weather.

Few people realize the importance of the endless myriad of jobs performed by our janitors.

Mr. Deetz has undertaken the preparation of breakfast for students this year. It is the first time a project of this type has been attempted.

COOKS: Izora Call; Floyd Deetz, manager; Elaine Worcester; Marietta Lininger; Irene Chilcote; Maxine Lininger; Senora Barnum; Jeanne Banta.

Despite muttered grumbings about the food, the hot lunches served in the cafeteria are appreciated by all.

Science: Foundation of yesterday, today, and tomorrow

All around us it is evident that science is an indispensable way of thinking which has produced the technical knowledge of the present. Most of the world has been mapped out and explored, but what lies beyond? Future scientists and even the ordinary people must acquaint themselves with the questions put forth.

Chemistry, biology, physical science, and physics are but a small part of the vast fields offered for exploration. There are still many problems to solve, but science is that—a pathway to discovery.

English is necessary as a background for all courses

Thought and expression are not overnight accomplishments. To be able to express ourselves has taken the work of many teachers. Knowledge, an open mind, and ideas are the simple ingredients by which we advance.

English is the doorway to knowledge. With help we students can unlock it. It takes a handful of patience, a heart full of desire, and a headful of creativity to reach the keyhole to success.

The assistance of books, new methods, and equipment forge the way and with the work of capable teachers the goal is near. There is a way to knowledge through English, and it shall be found, for "where there's a will, there's a way."

Yesterday's world becomes today's in social studies

History is a fast-moving, ever-changing study of people; studying what they did and why they did it. The Social Studies Department of A.H.S. emphasizes the role of history in forming the background for current events. As evidence of this spirit, Junior U.S. History students under the direction of Mr. Sirk, Mr. Nesbitt, and Mr. Flandt, study American history from 1890 to the present rather than from 1607. The Honors U.S. History class has a revised curriculum which consists of studying sections of several textbooks, with emphasis on paperbacks, rather than a single text. New programs are continually being initiated such as the organized mock election and the trip to the stage legislature originated by Mr. Burnau and Mr. Simon, senior government and economic instructors.

Math department prepares students for tomorrow by exploring new fields today

Solving problems of all types is the job of the math students at Angola High. Organized to train those with a minimum of skill and also to educate those seeking advanced methods, the curricula follows the modified modern math concept.

A new field being explored is the computer science careers in which the senior math class participated at Tri-State College. By showing that mathematics is a constantly growing field of change and necessity, the capable teachers educate the mathematicians of tomorrow.

from Mrs. Kile.

Vocational studies teachers encourage exploration on an individual level

Aided by new teaching aids and technical equipment, teachers of courses geared toward the vocational facet of education are now able to broaden their department's scope. A new graphic arts camera was added to the Industrial Arts inventory and has already proved itself a utilitarian investment, greatly reducing cost and labor in making all types of duplications.

Other departments, especially Home Economics, are placing increasing importance on individual exploration of areas of personal interest with the idea that more intensive learning in these areas will perhaps be of greater value to students than a less enthusiastically pursued background of more general training.

Foreign languages learned from teachers, library resources

Realizing the ever-increasing emphasis placed on the study of foreign languages, A.H.S. offers two modern language courses along with Latin. Up to three years of study can be taken in Spanish and Latin, and a fourth year is offered in French. The Spanish and French classes make intensive usage of the language laboratory, giving students the opportunity to hear the language as it is spoken by its native users.

One of the most essential facets of any educational institution is adequate library facilities. Our librarians have made many new additions to both the audio-visual and stacks sections of our expanding library. A wide selection of back-issues of periodicals is also available for reference work.

Mrs. Owens spent last summer touring the world, adding to her knowledge of French.

Above: Another unusual choir program in the making directed by Miss Siebold. Right: Contest looms near for Mr. Nichols as the band works diligently.

Below: Modern ideas of art are stressed by Mr. Robinson. Lower right: Arranging and directing occupy most of Mr. Frisinger's time.

Music, Art, and Phys. Ed. round out an education

Culture plays a large part in today's society. Rounding out the mind becomes a necessity. Through music, either vocal taught by Miss Siebold, or instrumental directed by Mr. Nichols and Mr. Frisinger, music students paint scenes melodically.

Art also creates scenes either abstract or exact. Under Mr. Robinson's guidance, students express their feelings by their work, much of which shows the imagination of future artists.

Forming the mental character of students is important but as important is shaping them physically. Exercise, sports, and all types of physical activity are stressed by the Physical Education Department. The boys, under Mr. Rodney Wells try to master the techniques of basketball, wrestling, and track, while the girls, taught by Mrs. Sue Heier strive to coordinate the smooth movement and skills of gymnastics and tumbling.

Left: Enjoyment as well as skill are taught by Mr. Wells. Below: Mrs. Heier's girls learn balance and ease in gymnastics.

A time to lead . .

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

. . and a time to follow,

This year's induction honored Mr. John Wearly, seated at left, who moved to Fort Wayne last year. Mr. Wearly had been the sponsor for Angola for many years, and the club deeply regretted seeing them come to an end.

Formal induction starts the year for Hi-Y

Affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., Hi-Y is a Christian organization for boys in grades 9-12. Striving for cleanness in speech, sportsmanship, scholarship in everyday life, the club promotes these ideals in their members. The Angola Hi-Y Club is highly regarded throughout the state, and has been represented by several state officers, this year by Denny Bumgarner who was elected state president for 1968-1969. Services to school and community are performed annually, and include the Christmas tree pick-up, donations to charitable organizations, and the sharing of the responsibility for the Christmas Prom with the Y-Teens. Six Angola Hi-Y boys spent a week-long session at the National Hi-Y—Tri-Hi-Y summer convention at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota this past summer. The stay was a rewarding experience for them, and it is hoped that other groups can be sent in the future.

Boys in grades 9-12 are brought into Hi-Y in a very solemn and impressive candlelight ceremony.

Above and Left: Denny Bumgarner became the second Angola member to represent our club as State Hi-Y President. Elected from candidates from nearly 300 clubs, he has brought even more recognition to our already highly considered club.

quests for every desire throughout the evening.

Y-teens active in many community service projects

Mrs. Rathburn, sponsor; Mrs. Thalls, sponsor; Barbara Carr, treasurer; Debbie Summers, vice-president; Jo Ellen Stevens, president.

A.H.S. Y-teens participated actively in both school and community affairs. They held the annual UNICEF drive in October. December brought record-breaking cookie sales and the Candlelight Service. Mrs. Helen Mills was guest speaker at the Candlelight Service and gave a moving message on "Hope." The Y-teens also participated in service projects such as the March of Dimes, monthly birthday parties at the County Home, and they collected clothing for the needy. In March they held the Pa-Ma-Me banquet using the theme of "A Circus Comes to Town." To finish the year they again bid farewell to the seniors with the Senior Swing-out.

Left: Of all the money-making projects, the annual cookie sales is the most rewarding. Below: Chaplain Joann Arbuckle always offers meaningful devotions.

The three student directors demonstrated their abilities for creativity as the Night of Plays again drew large crowds.

Participating in the plays as actors, actresses, directors, and behind-the-scene workers, the students are rewarded for their efforts with the valued honor of becoming a lifetime member of the National Thespian Organization.

"Oklahoma!" captures an enthusiastic audience

This year the Thespians combined efforts with the Music Department in the undertaking of the production of the Broadway hit musical, "Oklahoma!" Nearly two months of preparation, under the dramatical guidance of Mr. Hal Vaughn and the musical assistance of Miss Nancy Siebold, preceded the three performances on the nights of November 7, 8, and 9. Mr. Elwood Nichols also contributed his musical talent to direct the pit orchestra in accompanying the voices on stage.

Student Council attempts to bring programs of appeal to the student body

Representing the ideas of the students and promoting new projects kept the Student Council busy this year. President Rob Wilson and the other members again sponsored the successful Homecoming weekend highlighted by the chili supper, parade, victorious game, the Olympics, and the semi-formal dance on Saturday. Introducing the breakfast plan for the hungry early morning students was also part of the new idea. The student participation program ending up with the Sadie Hawkins Dance, proved enjoyable, too. Sponsored by Mr. Arney, the council again showed their worth and finished a successful year with the student body elections.

The foreign exchange student this year, Nancy Berthemmy, was again sponsored by the Student Council. From France, the blue-eyed blonde brought with her many new customs which were introduced to the students.

on Saturday night by an evening of quiet dancing.

Outstanding students are honored with membership in National Honor Society

Revision and change concerned the National Honor Society this year. Aided by a new sponsor, Miss Siebold, the members rewrote parts of their chapter constitution and changed the policy concerning dues. After correspondence with other area chapters, the club also decided to devise a better method for choosing new members. Plans to change the time of initiation from the late part of the year to early in the first semester were also started.

President Larry Banta directed the club in deciding upon a new method of selecting its members.

The lowering of initial dues and the revision of the chapter constitution were two of the major projects undertaken this year.

students to study customs, people of other lands

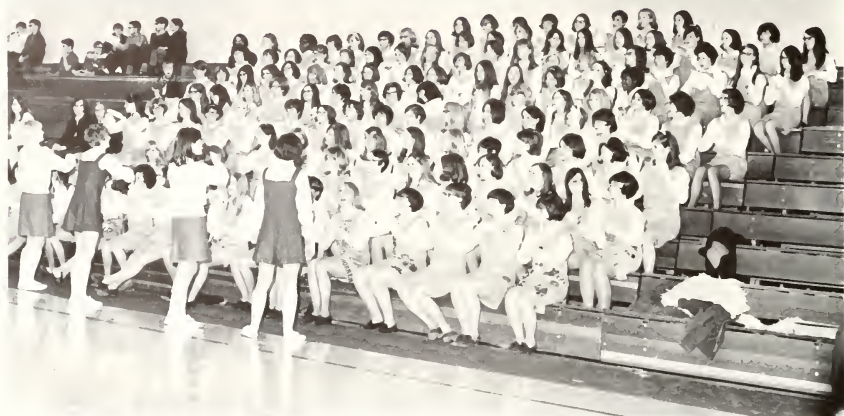

A.H.S. students can broaden their foreign language background through membership in three different clubs. The Latin Club, recently organized by Mrs. Warmbier, meets once a month. Their meetings emphasize the effects of Roman civilization on our present culture.

Meeting the fourth Thursday of each month is the French Club sponsored by Miss Smith. French Club members often use the language lab with the meetings being conducted in French. Such programs as French charades and "alley-oop" are enjoyed by all.

The Mexico Study Trip is the major project of the Spanish Club under Mr. Prosser's direction. The club sponsors many money-making projects to provide money for five lucky students to take the trip. This year's projects included candle sales, a chili supper, T-shirt sales, the Harlem All-Star game, and a cake raffle.

Newly originated activities for athletically inclined co-eds

Hornet athletes were always vigorously stimulated by the rousing cheers of the entire Pep Club throughout all of the Angola football and basketball games during the 1968-69 sports season.

PEP CLUB OFFICERS: Debbie Maugherman, vice-president; Mrs. Heier, sponsor; Pat Jarrard, treasurer; Beth Summers, president; Cheri Fee, secretary.

With hope and a smile, the cheerleaders led the Pep Club through indoor sports in the warm gym and through victorious football games on a cold field.

bring variety to Pep Club and G.A.A.

This year there was enough interest stimulated within G.A.A. to form a bowling team which entered the state competition. The team placed tenth of forty-four teams, with LuAnn Eyster placing tenth individually.

A new sponsor, Mrs. Sue Heier, brought personal vigor and enthusiasm to Girls Athletic Association and Pep Club. Both clubs developed new constitutions which were voted on and passed by their members. G.A.A. was reorganized on a point system with 25 points being required for membership. This year the girls enjoyed volleyball, bowling, gymnastics, soccer, tennis, track, and basketball.

The Pep Club boasted a record membership of over two hundred. New uniforms were made, consisting of gold jumpsuits of corduroy and two Hornet booster pins, with seniors wearing the traditional senior cords. New support and spirit was shown as the girls also attended wrestling and gymnastic meets as well as football and basketball games.

G.A.A. OFFICERS: Pat Jarrard, vice-president; Connie Anderson, president; Mrs. Heier, sponsor; Valorie Banta, treasurer; Mindy Dygert, secretary.

Left: The Art Club often helps the school by making scenery and props for the Thespian plays.

Providing training for aspiring photographers, artists, and teachers, A.H.S. students have available to them the Photo Club, the Art Club, and the F.T.A. Club.

Making posters, designing and painting sets for the plays, and making program covers keep the members of the Art Club busy. Under Mr. Neil Robinson's direction, the members participate in other school events.

The Photo Club, now sponsored by Mr. Tony Wright, undertakes developing pictures for the yearbook, the newspaper, and their own benefit.

The Future Teachers of America Club, under the directions of Mrs. Kile and Mrs. Meyerrose, investigates the teaching profession. Special programs this year included the evening initiation and a birthday party for Mrs. Kile given by the members and Mrs. Marion Clark.

The speakers at the athletic banquets are always interesting. They have come from as far away as Southern Indiana and as close as Angola High. Their talks, however, remain consistently intriguing and thought provoking.

Letterman's Club recognizes outstanding athletes

The purpose of Letterman's Club is to provide an organization for young men who have performed well enough in athletics to earn a major award. The coaches at Angola feel that these boys enjoy and are dedicated to sports, and need an organization to further their common interest in athletics. Their main functions are the three banquets held at the end of each season in the athletes' honor. Funds for the banquets are raised by operating the concession stand at football games.

The highlights of each banquet are the moments when the most valuable player awards are given to one athlete in each sport.

Mr. Thalls, co-sponsor; Joe Bledsoe, treasurer; Denny Bumgarner, secretary; Jeff Wolf, president; Tony DeRosa, business manager; Mr. Sirk, co-sponsor.

Interested seniors find Exploratory Teaching a rewarding experience

Often the fun of Exploratory Teaching is the result of helping to extend young creative imaginations.

New sponsor, Mrs. Schubert, found her group of Exploratory Teachers almost tripled by the second semester this year. Starting with five students, the class grew to fourteen with five of the new members being boys.

Open to the seniors, those students interested in the teaching profession were scheduled with the first hour of the day being free. After learning basic ideas and methods of the profession, each exploratory teacher had a chance to be an observer in the class of his or her choice. They were then gradually expected to help the teacher with short assignments or any classroom assistance that could be given.

The exploratory teachers this year were found in all three grade schools. One girl even helped the "ungraded" class at Pleasant Lake each day. Experiences and knowledge were the rewards these young people gained as well as decisions concerning their future.

while the Hornet relates present highlights

Published monthly by the A.H.S. journalism department, "The Hornet" is the school's personal news media. Under the direction of Mrs. Sharon King and editor Jane Holderness, the staff covers all newsworthy events happening around the school. Whether reporting on a football game or the car of the month, "The Hornet" presents stories that appeal to all.

Undertaken annually by a staff of interested seniors, the Key is a project that requires many hours of devoted labor. Mr. Servis, yearbook advisor, and editor Scott White attended a summer training session at the University of Detroit to learn modern yearbook techniques. The application of these techniques and strong leadership were combined to produce a type of annual new to A.H.S.

Many skills are required in the publication of any newspaper. There is always the task of sorting notes and writing stories.

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Siebold, the vocal music department presented a series of memorable concerts. The Christmas concert featured a ten-minute choral presentation of the Christmas Story arranged by Miss Siebold. The New Day Singers were highlighted in the spring concert, as well as the high school choir, which sang such numbers as "Man of La Mancha" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The choir journeyed to Fort Wayne to be videotaped for presentation of WANE T.V. in their Christmas concert series and received a high rating in the NISBOVA Music contest at Garrett in April.

Much credit for their successful year must be given by the choir to their talented accompanist, Ann Birchman. Variety and interest were added to several selections by the instrumental accompaniment of Jackie Areaux and Clark Holtzman.

Christmas program and concerts highlight musical year for choir

Adding to the Christmas program, the Junior High choir made-up of eighty seventh and eighth graders, sang various seasonal favorites.

With over thirty senior members leaving the Concert Band, the members of the Varsity Band will play a large part in the success of future bands. Mr. Frisinger will direct this young group in the fall.

Varsity Band experience will help Concert Band in future

The Varsity Band will add a good deal of needed depth to the Concert Band in several sections. Although they are somewhat lacking in low brass, the addition of strong clarinet, flutes, cornet, and low woodwind sections will improve the band's sound next year.

Top: Because of the leadership of many seniors, the band has little to worry about at concerts. Right: Throughout his career Mr. Nichols has done nearly everything to improve the quality of his bands. Below: Besides receiving a first at the state contest, the flute trio has performed before many groups and at a concert.

Band rewards Mr. Nichols' final year with fine concert performances

At the beginning of the year The Concert Band showed signs of becoming one of the best Angola bands in several years. Three fine concerts and a high contest rating supported this prediction by Mr. Nichols.

Marine Band director Captain Dale Harpham, a native of Pleasant Lake, was guest director at the spring concert. Among the selections played were "The Silver Quill," written by Captain Harpham, and the difficult "Overture 1812."

Because of the retirement of Mr. Nichols, Mr. Barry Frisinger will direct the band next year. Valuable experience gained from his close work with the bands and Mr. Nichols promises to aid Mr. Frisinger in continuing the success of the instrumental music program.

In spite of the before-concert rush, Bobbie and Barb find time to practice their favorite hobby.

Mr. Frisinger's first year brings improvement to bands

Under the direction of Mr. Frisinger and Mr. Nichols, the Marching Band presented four football shows, participated in the Auburn Fair, and marched in the Homecoming Parade. John Stevens, drum major, led the band through a good season featuring Robin Osborne and Cindy Crain, twirlers, in several shows. A.H.S. Alumnus, Mr. Frisinger, designed several shows and arranged much of the music used.

The Pep and Stage Bands also directed by Mr. Frisinger, had a full year playing at basketball games, the three one-act plays, and a Republican rally. New pop hits and arrangements of "Windy" and "Mission Impossible" brought enthusiastic response from the members and the audiences.

The Marching Hornets presented programs of Broadway musicals such as "Hello Dolly" and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Captain Dale Harpham, assistant director of the United States Marine Band, was guest conductor of the Varsity Band and Concert Band at the Spring Concert on May second. His wit, humor, and directing techniques quickly made Captain Harpham a hit with the members of both bands.

A time to practice . . .

. . . and a time to perform,

An experienced Hornet football squad nearly captures conference

The class of '69 finally came into its own this year as a predominantly senior team cashed in a sparkling 5-2-2 record—the best in Angola history. The seniors, who throughout their high school years have been matched against much older teams, began to see a bright spot last year, and became Angola's bright spot this year by finishing with the first "winning" football season since 1964. Not all the credit, by any means, can be given to the seniors. Lynn Smathers' outstanding job as first-string quarterback, and the equally sterling performance of Jeff Ott running behind several strong junior linemen were an important part of the Hornet attack.

Mr. Sirk, in his second year as head football coach was very pleased with the team and rates it as a very dedicated group of young men crediting much of their success to the intense pride they held in themselves both as individuals and as a team.

"With more boys of their caliber," he states, "Angola would take a back seat to no one in Northeastern Indiana."

Hornets open cage season by stopping Eastside, Howe

The Varsity basketball team suffered a slightly improved but still discouraging year. Injuries to key players, which also lowered team morale, were the main reasons for the disappointing season. Denny Hoolihan's injury in the middle of the year took away a big part of the Hornet attack. Other injuries to regulars Paul Osborne and Lance Zimmer cut further into the team's firepower.

There were two encouraging developments for an improved 1969-70 season. The Juniors on the Varsity showed signs of developing into a good team nucleus, and the advancement of Reserve players to the Varsity squad will bring needed shooting ability to the Hornet scoring punch.

Two tall forwards, Denny Hoolihan, a senior, and Jim Holse, a junior, both proved to be invaluable assets to the Hornets this year.

Junior guard Lynn Smathers began a year of steady performance for the Hornets by scoring 11 points against Eastside.

Blue Blazers for two years while Greg, who has run everything from the 100 to the mile, was elected this year's most valuable player by his teammates.

When team captain Denny Bumgarner hurt his leg midway through the season, the Blue Blazers were a man short. Bruce Bryan volunteered to run and worked hard to fill the empty spot.

A shortage of hurdlers this year forced seniors Bob Brady and Larry Bassett, two consistently good high hurdlers, to run the lows also.

A victory at the Howe Invitational and 3 school records highlight a great track season

Gary Barlett is the only one who has ever held the school two-mile record. This year he broke his own record twice and was practically undefeated.

For the first time in many years the A.H.S. track team brought home trophies, records, and a season of accomplishments to their school. Hard workouts started early in March, when the team adopted the term "dedication" as the key factor to a successful season. Each team member immediately became dedicated to his school, team, self, and job to be done, and remained so throughout the season to produce the winning combination of muscle and desire for all the meets. The backbone of the team was the group of twelve seniors with whom Coach Prosser had worked since they were freshmen. There were several sectional qualifiers in this bunch, including Gary Barlett in the two mile, Bob Brady in the high hurdles, Kieth Huffman in the mile, Bruce Bryan in the shot put, and Greg Griffis in the 440. Greg went on to qualify for the regional where he ran the quarter in a time which would have tied the school record, but there were not enough official watches on him to qualify it as a record.

The high point of the season came on a Saturday afternoon at the Howe Invitational. Angola tied for first place with Westview in a field of six teams and brought home a first place trophy. Two weeks later at the Lakeland Invitational the team only finished third of six but took with them nine of the twenty individual first place trophies. It was at this meet that the three school records were set. Gary Barlett ran the two-mile in 10:17.9, Lynn Smathers turned a 2:03.8 half-mile, and the Blue Blazers, our fast mile-relay team, shaved almost five seconds off the old record, which also qualified them for the sectional.

Young Hornet baseball team promises future success in spite of discouraging record

After starting the season with a five-run win over Concordia, the 1969 baseball team never slackened in desire and determination even though their winning momentum could not be maintained. Losing games because of one stroke of bad luck in the last inning would be enough to discourage any ball club, but not this group of boys. They gave their all from the first out to the last, always playing to win whether they were ten runs ahead or ten behind. The team had a strong pitching staff with a lot of depth, a solid infield, a good outfield, and substantial hitting, but lacked the experience and often the luck to come out on top. Considering the factors that make a good ball club, Coach Dygert certainly deserves to be proud of this team.

Golfers have successful season: end with 10-2 record

A strong varsity four backed up by a good field of reserves led the A.H.S. golf team to their second successful year in a row by losing only to East Noble and Dekalb. The team came back later in the year to defeat both schools, and against Dekalb they tied the team high school record with a score of 200. Although the team showing at the conference was not as good as last year's, two team members, Larry Barnes and Tony DeRosa, received high honors by placing fourth and sixth medalists respectively. With the loss of only two seniors and with a field of eight promising underclassmen, A.H.S. should see winning golf seasons for many years to come.

Hornet Harriers reject disappointing

In spite of seventeen discouraging losses, the 1968 Hornet Cross Country team managed to maintain enough momentum through the season to keep their hopes for next year very high. Picking up two inspiring wins over Fremont early in the season and finishing fourth among seven teams at the Lakeland Invitational were the bright spots of the season. Team captain Gary Barlett was this year's most consistent performer, and was selected Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Gary turned in an outstanding performance at the Lakeland Invitational, finishing second individually. Joe Bledsoe, another senior on the team, was also a steady performer for the Hornets. Next year's prospects look bright with five strong underclassmen returning, among them Doug Franze, a fast-improving junior and Norman Thomas, a strong sophomore. Good luck to Coach Dygert and the Harriers for the 1969 season.

are required of all gymnasts to produce a winning team

The year's best performances on the rings and the high bar came from two juniors, Ralph Holman, top, and Wynn Hensel. Ralph climaxed his season by placing twelfth in the state on the rings.

After a three year period out of coaching, Mr. Nesbitt returned to sports this year to bring the 1968-69 Gymnastics team home with eight victories and only five losses. The team, led by four outstanding seniors, had more over-all balance in all events than any previous Angola gymnastics team. They made an impressive showing by scoring highly in every meet from the first of the season to the end, placing third in the sectional and fourteenth in the state.

Leading performers on the team included Don Wenzel, team captain, who consistently displayed remarkable ability on the trampoline. Eric Anspaugh, another senior who worked on the trampoline, proved his worth by placing eleventh in the state in this event. The most valuable player for the gymnasts this year and by far the highest scorer was senior Clark Holtzman. He received all-around first place in the sectional meet and all-around seventh-place in the state to successfully complete an outstanding four years in gymnastics.

With the loss of four seniors, next year's team will have four returning lettermen and ten strong underclassmen which should provide a good well-balanced team and another successful A.H.S. gymnastics season.

The A.H.S. girls' gymnastics were at last rewarded with an opportunity to prove themselves, as they held their first school-sanctioned meet here on Feb. 19. Our girls made an outstanding showing despite the obstacles they faced. Defeated by a veteran Jimtown team, the performers were a credit to their school, themselves, and the coaching of Mrs. Heier.

Starting with only the enthusiastic girls and the determination of Mrs. Heier, the team was begun last year with the help of Mr. Nesbitt, but had to go it alone this year as he returned to the post of boys' gymnastics coach. Plagued by scarcity of practice time in the gym, the girls were forced to come in at 7:00 a.m. and in the evenings showing a genuine desire and true dedication.

Rick Penix brings a sectional championship home to tough

Hornet wrestling squad

After many years of receiving little recognition and little support from fans, the Angola wrestling team finally came into its own, finishing the 1968-69 season with a 6-4-1 record. Hornet grapplers have never been able to boast a winning season before, and Coach Charles Avery deserves to be very proud of a team that stimulated much interest in wrestling within both the high school and the community.

The highest individual recognition this year was received by Rick Penix, the 95-pound "Supernat." After completing the regular season with an undefeated record, Rick went on to place first among seven boys at the Conference meet, first among fourteen at the sectional, and second of four at the regional. Nobody in the history of Angola High has ever accomplished any of these tasks before. Rick was elected most valuable player by his fellow wrestlers.

The loss of seven graduating seniors on the varsity twelve will mean that next year will be one of rebuilding. There were few sophomores and juniors on the squad, but several freshmen promise another strong A.H.S. wrestling team in a few short years. Congratulations again to Coach Avery and his wrestlers on a great '68-'69 season.

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose.

June 9, 1969

Readers,

As I reflect upon the past year of producing the 1969 Key, I can recall many long hours of fitting layouts, writing copy, and proofreading final triplificates. However, I feel, as the entire staff does, that each and every moment spent was a part of a worthwhile endeavor to produce not only a different yearbook but a more complete, correct, and much improved record of the 68-69 school year.

Recently, the yearbook at Angola High has received much criticism mainly due to the use of a summer or fall delivery type book. As a counteroffensive to this, I can only hope that the changes we have made in this year's Key will help its readers to realize the value of an extra 3-4 month wait.

When I started working on the '69 Key, the first thing which I knew would be crucial to the success of the yearbook would be a good hardworking staff. Looking back, I must say that no editor could have asked for more cooperation and willingness to work than that which came from the small group that produced this book. To each and every one of them I owe more thanks than can be expressed in this letter.

To guide the staff in its decisions and keep them diligently working was our advisor, Mr. Servis. The entire staff, I'm sure, appreciates his valuable guidance and assistance.

If you have even scanned the pages of this publication, I'm sure you have noticed many changes we have initiated throughout the book. We have among other things, updated our advertisement section, added a theme, and attempted to improve the copy in the book. The source of these changes was a two-week summer journalism session at the University of Detroit. I must thank them for opening my eyes to the outdated, old-fashioned yearbooks being produced at AHS.

I also offer a "thank-you" to the local merchants who responded to our new advertising method with open and enthusiastic minds. Their co-operation was certainly appreciated, especially at the financial end of things.

A special measure of gratitude also goes to Mr. Garvice Clarke who was most willing to offer advice and assistance any time the need arose for either.

In closing, I must say that it is my utmost desire that you found all the enjoyment in reading the '69 Key as I have had in editing it.

Sincerely,
Scott White
Editor-in-Chief
